Academic Section Chair Carla Clark, Chair-Elect Betsy Miguez, and Secretary Shelby Anfenson-Comeau have been working tirelessly on the process of requesting, receiving and submitting programs to be offered at the LLA Annual Conference. The Conference will be held this year in Shreveport, March 4 - 6, at the newly constructed Convention Center. The conference hotel, adjacent to the Convention Center, is a brand-new, plush Hilton with a modern yet warm decor. Attendees will be delighted with the luxurious rooms and the upscale atmosphere of the hotel.

Downtown Shreveport has dining options, and of course the casinos are close by for dining or daring to part with some small portion of your pay. Just across the Red River, the Boardwalk in Bossier City has several restaurants and lots of shopping, plus a movie theater.

Of course, we know everyone is attending the Conference for the outstanding programs and the many opportunities for professional growth, networking, and personal development. This year the Academic Section offers attendees something in each of these three of these areas.

For professional growth, the Academic Section is sponsoring sessions on a variety of topics, from introducing freshmen students to the library and fostering a lifelong love of learning, to tips for newly-minted librarians who are interested in career advancement and success.

If you’d like to visit with your colleagues and perhaps make some new connections, be sure to sign up for the “Meet and Greet” event, co-hosted by the Academic Section and ACRL-LA. Everyone is welcome to join us Wednesday night from 5:00-7:00 p.m., for drinks and light hors-d’ouvres. We will present the Outstanding Academic Librarian Award this evening, and will offer some door prizes as well, so we encourage everyone to join the fun.

How about something to nourish your creative spirit? For those of us with half-finished novels or books of poetry stashed in shoeboxes under our beds or in the back of dark desk drawers, the Academic Section is offering a pre-conference Writer’s Workshop, led by local author Ashley Havird. Ashley has published poems and short stories in such notable publications as The Southern Review. She teaches creative writing classes at Centenary College in Shreveport and does freelance writer’s workshops. Ashley will lead participants through some exercises designed to help us enrich our content with more vibrant characters, evocative imagery, and interesting plotlines. She will also provide information on how to market your work once you have completed your Great American Novel.

I wish to thank my co-officers Betsy and Shelby for their unflagging attention to detail and their outstanding efforts to conduct the Section’s tasks in a thoughtful, professional manner. Also, great thanks to everyone who offered to present at conference. The conference would not be a success without you. I strongly encourage everyone to attend this year; I think you will all be impressed with our venue, with the variety of programming, and with the hospitality of the great folks of Northwest Louisiana.

Speaking of great efforts by great librarians, please consider nominating someone for one of the two awards sponsored by the Academic Section: Outstanding Academic Librarian Award and Thorpe Grassroots Grant Award (see page 2 for more information).

Outstanding Academic Librarian Award

The Outstanding Academic Librarian Award Committee seeks nominations for the Outstanding Academic Librarian. This award publicly recognizes “an individual who has made an especially significant contribution to further the development of academic libraries/librarianship within Louisiana.”

The nominee must be an academic librarian currently active in his or her profession in Louisiana. On rare occasions a non-librarian who has made exceptional contributions to academic librarianship in Louisiana may be considered. Contributions must be of value to libraries or librarians as a whole, not to individual persons or institutions. Contributions, such as creating a “model library” on a particular campus, must be profound enough to be of wide interest and easily accessible for other libraries to benefit from their creation. Nominations must be made by a current member of LLA.

The nominee should be characterized by one or more of the following:

1. Actively participates in professional activities which enrich the ability of academic librarians to enhance library usage.
2. Conducts research and shares this research with other Louisiana academic librarians (either through publication or through public presentations) which enriches the ability of library users to more fully utilize current information resources and technologies.
3. Serves as a model for other librarians or potential librarians who can help further the impact of Louisiana academic libraries on the education and/or livelihood of Louisiana’s students and residents.

Please send vitae and four letters of recommendation of any nominations by Monday, November 26, 2007 to Melinda Matthews, UL Monroe, University Library, Interlibrary Loan, 4100 Northeast Drive, Monroe, LA 71209, Phone 318-342-1060, Fax 318-342-1075, matthews@ulm.edu.

Thorpe Grassroots Grant Award

The purpose of this award is to encourage library science students to attend state library conferences and to recognize outstanding graduates or undergraduate library science students. The prerequisites are: Must be a full-time or part-time graduate or undergraduate student majoring or minoring in library science and attending a Louisiana college or university. Can be a full-time or part-time student enrolled in a library tech program (two year) at an accredited two-year or four-year college. Individual must be a student at the time of application, but not necessarily at the time of conference. Must be a current member of LLA.

Qualified applicants should submit an essay of up to 250 words which discusses how the student will benefit from attending the LLA conference. A letter of recommendation from a current library instructor is also required. Selection will be based on the nominee’s essay. The essay should illustrate the nominee’s sense of direction and purpose, and his/her commitment to the profession. The winner of this award will receive an engraved plaque and a $250.00 check from Thorpe Associates for expenses incurred in attending the LLA conference and a ribbon to be worn at the conference.

Send applications by Monday, November 26, 2007 to Dr. Beth Paskoff, School of Library & Information Science, 267 Coates Hall Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, LA 70803, Phone 225-578-1480, Fax 225-578-4581, bpaskoff@lsu.edu.

Anthony H. Benoit Mid-Career Award

The committee for this award is requesting nominations for the Anthony H. Benoit Mid-Career Award. It is presented each year to a Louisiana librarian in mid-career for outstanding contributions to the field of librarianship. Please take the time to nominate a co-worker who is deserving of this prestigious award and meets the prerequisites.

Prerequisites:

- Must possess an MLS degree, or equivalent degree, or hold library certification
- Minimum of ten, but not more than twenty, years of professional library experience
- Must be a current member of LLA who has been active in the association
- Must be nominated by an LLA member, although letters of endorsement may be submitted by either members or non-members

All that is needed to nominate is: 1) a formal letter of nomination, 2) the candidate’s résumé, and 3) at least three letters of support.

Consideration by the committee to select a winner is based on the nominee’s résumé, contributions to LLA, ALA, and other professional library activities, as well as the nominee’s contributions to civic/community activities. Deadline for nominations is December 1, 2007 postmark.
